OUTGOING OFFICER GUIDE

Student Organization Officer Transition Outline

Before the newly-elected officers of your organization officially assume their responsibilities, it is wise for the old and new officers to get together for a "transition meeting." Through such a transition meeting, the new officers will be able to learn from the experience of the outgoing officers and offer continuity and continued growth for the organization. A casual, open atmosphere should be encouraged so that the organization can benefit from an honest evaluation of the accomplishments and problems of the previous year. The following outline can help you make your transition meeting flow as smoothly as possible.

- I. Welcome and Introductions
(Help participants get acquainted and explain the purpose of the meeting)

- II. The Year in Review
 - A. Goals: Review the group's goals for the previous year.
What did we hope to accomplish?
How well did we do on each goal?
Which goals should be carried on this year?
Which goals need to be changed?
Which goals are no longer feasible?

 - B. Programs and Activities: Evaluate what your group did.
How effective were the programs / activities we sponsored?
Did we have a good balance in our schedule of programs and activities?
Were our programs and activities consistent with our goals?
Which activities and programs do we want to repeat?

 - C. Membership: Evaluate number of members and their commitment
Do we have too many, too few, or just the right amount of members?
Were our recruitment efforts successful?
Are our members as actively involved as we want them to be?
Were the chances for members to get involved in a meaningful way?

 - D. Officers and Organizational Structure: Evaluate officers and structure.
Are officer roles and responsibilities clearly described?
Did officers work as a team, or is there more teamwork needed?
Is the time and effort required in each office comparable?
Is there two-way communication between officers and members?
How do the members feel about the officers?

 - E. Organizational Operations: Evaluate finances, communication, etc.
Were the finances adequate for our group, and managed properly?
Were meetings run effectively? Was their frequency adequate?
Did the committee structure work?

Did we have scheduling conflicts with other groups or activities?

- F. Faculty Involvement: Evaluate both quality and quantity.
Did our advisor provide the support we needed?
Did we give our advisors and other faculty a chance to get involved?
How could we improve faculty involvement?
- G. Public Image: Evaluate how other groups perceive you.
How do we see ourselves? Is this how "outsiders" see us?
How can we enhance our image?

III. Your Legacy to the New Officer Team

- A. What are the current strengths and weaknesses of the group?
- B. What is the best advice you can give your successor?
- C. What were there major challenges and accomplishments in your term?

IV. Officer Transition

Have the new and outgoing officers meet individually to discuss:

- A. Responsibilities of the position, with a job description if possible.
- B. A timetable for completion of annual duties.
- C. Unfinished projects.
- D. Important contacts and resource persons.
- E. Mistakes that could have been avoided.
- F. Advice for the new officer.
- G. Any questions the new officer may have.
- H. Where the outgoing officer can be reached with future questions.

V. Wrap-Up

"Pass the gavel" in a semi-official ceremony and wish everyone luck!
Provide an opportunity for informal socializing.

One-on-One Meeting Handout

This handout will assist in officer transition by focusing upon past accomplishments and providing a critique of the year in office. This report should serve as a supplementary resource in planning for the new officer's term.

Office: _____ Name: _____

Date: _____

1. List other officers / chairmen with whom you worked and the projects involved.
2. List specific accomplishments realized during your term in office and the reasons for their success.
3. List any problems or disappointments you encountered as a part of your office and suggest ways of avoiding or correcting them.
4. List supplemental materials and sources of information you found most helpful. Include specific alumni or faculty contacts, university / college officers, community resources, etc.
5. Comment on the timetable applicable to your office. Give suggestions for increasing efficiency and effectiveness.
6. List any other suggestions you feel would be helpful to your successor in carrying out the responsibilities of this office.

INCOMING OFFICER GUIDE

Your Role as a Student Leader

1. Work on the morale of your group members. Unless they feel good about their roles, your group members will not be as cooperative and productive as they could be.
2. Expect any changes to be accepted gradually. Sometimes we expect people to accept changes overnight that we have been thinking about for months. Remember that it is almost impossible to change people... they usually must change themselves.
3. Be available to help those who want your help. When we attempt to force our ideas of assistance when it hasn't been solicited, we risk building resistance among our group.
4. Let your group members determine the group's purpose. Unless group members have a say in what is to happen, their participation will be half-hearted at best.
5. Emphasize the process for working through problems rather than the final result. Your desired results may change as your group changes. An open channel of communication which involves all group members will help you incorporate these changes.
6. Approach change through cooperative appraisal. When change is based on evidence, it reduces the chances for a win-lose situation. The decision will be based on what is right, rather than who is right.
7. Encourage brainstorming and creativity. Provide feedback and support for new ideas and avoid penalizing for mistakes made for the sake of experimentation.
8. Share decision regarding policies and procedures. By emphasizing how to solve problems, and involving your members in these decisions, you will create deeper commitment in your members.
9. Recognize criticism as the first step individuals take in assuming responsibility. Use criticism as a chance to solicit suggestions for improvement.
10. Share the glory. You cannot expect enthusiastic participation if you take all the credit.
11. Have faith and confidence in the ability of your group. People tend to live up to our expectations, be they high or low.
12. Be sure your group has a common purpose. Structure meetings so that issues of common interest are discussed with the whole group, and individual concerns are addressed at other times.
13. Trust the motives of all group members. Attend to every suggestion as a sincere one which deserves a sincere response.
14. Don't set yourself up as infallible. Be honest and admit when you lack an answer. Don't be afraid to be human.
15. Be specific. Communicate exactly what you expect and think.
16. Be socially sensitive. Avoid being witty or funny at the expense of group members.
17. Use the inquiry method. Use questions to get information and define issues.
18. Be impartial. Play no favorites and give all group members equal chance to participate.
19. Promote group cohesiveness. Make all group members feel as if they belong.
20. Manage conflict, don't ignore it. Bring conflict into the open, and concentrate on issues, behaviors and facts rather than personalities.

Incoming Officer's Transition Worksheet

[Questions to ask during transition]

Please think through and respond to the following questions regarding your responsibilities. This information will be helpful to your successor.

14. Things specific to the position I want to know about (forms, duties, etc...)

15. Things I should do over the summer...

16. People (positions) that I should get to know...

17. Services that I need to know about...

18. Things I need to know about working with my advisor...

19. Other questions I want answered...

Maintaining Continuity: Transition Questions New Officers

Directions: Many of these questions are geared toward former, or out-going officers. New officers can use these questions to brainstorm ideas or goals for the upcoming term of office.

1. What do you perceive to be your organization's objectives or goals?

2. What do you consider to be the responsibilities of your office?

3. What are your expectations of yourself in the office?

4. What expectations do you have of the executive council?

5. What expectations do you believe your members have of you?

6. What problems or areas will require attention within the next year?

7. What should be done immediately in the fall?

8. Who do you anticipate will be most helpful in getting things done? (People outside your organization such as advisors, professors, administrative staff, etc.)

9. Write down one specific problem you anticipate you will encounter during your term.

Agenda(s): Important items to include

- Opening activity / ice breaker
- Meals and prep time to cook / clean up
- Both large and small group activities
- Unstructured time to allow thought growth and development
- Breaks
- Group interaction and discussion
- Sufficient time in case activities run over schedule
- Evaluation and assessment

Steps for Planning Organizational Retreat

I. Assessment of Needs

- A. The assessment should be conducted by either the coordinator(s) of the retreat, member(s) of the planning committee, the president, or other officer(s) designated by the planning committee
- B. Assessment will help identify concerns, needs, and desired outcomes as well as determining the participant's preferred format for the program
- C. The method of assessment should help determine what types of activities and programs to be used, the style of presentation, and to what extent the retreat will focus on the following:
 1. Problem solving - focusing on immediate problems of an organization
 2. Competency model - focusing on possibilities and desired outcomes (where are we now..., where do we want to be?)
- D. Methods of Assessment - Important to use advisor and/or facilitator in assessment process to get as much objective information as possible
 1. Questionnaire

2. Personal Interviews
3. Combination of both questionnaire and interviews
4. Observation

II. Setting Goals and Objectives of Retreat

- A. Objectives would be related to the needs identified in the assessment and focus on what the retreat is attempting to accomplish.
- B. Objectives should be broken down according to the types of learning to be achieved:
 1. Knowledge Learning - What information participants possess after the retreat (Constitution, policies, organizational goals, etc.)
 2. Skill Learning - What skills should participants possess after the retreat (Time management, planning / programming skills, confrontation skills, etc.)
 3. Attitude Learning - What attitudes should participants possess after the retreat (group cohesiveness, optimism, respect, value formation, etc.)

III. Organization of Retreat Planning

- A. This step involves determining the activities, content, and programs which will best accomplish the retreat objectives.
- B. Select the topics and methods to be covered.
Factors to Consider:
 1. Will the topics and methods meet the objectives of the retreat?
 2. Are the topics consistent with the participants' expectations, skills, and knowledge level?
 3. Are there resources, materials, and staff available for the topics and methods selected to be covered?
 4. Is there sufficient time and space available to accommodate the topics and methods selected to be covered?
- C. Examples of possible methods and topics
 1. Team building exercises - Develop group cohesiveness
 2. Lecture - Education on organization's constitution and policies
 3. Role play - Confrontation skills
 4. Brainstorming - Goal setting

IV. Make Arrangements

- A. Logistics - This step of the planning process includes factors such as practical constraints of money, time and staff availability, physical space and equipment limitations, as well as size of the group involved
- B. Budgeting - This is a very critical component of the planning process. Budgeting should be taken into consideration throughout the entire planning process.
Factors to Consider in Budgeting Process:
1. Facility cost
 2. Materials, copying, and equipment
 3. Refreshments and/or meals
 4. Certificates and recognition
 5. Outside presenters
 6. Travel
- C. Selecting the Date and Time:
1. Needs and expectations of participants should be taken into consideration
 2. Must be sufficient time to achieve objectives of retreat
 3. Notification of date and time should be set to allow participants sufficient time to make arrangements
- D. Choose the Facility:
1. Area and space should be sufficient to conduct activities and program
 2. The climate of facility should be conducive for the learning process of the retreat
- E. Designating Responsibilities - This step involves delegating planning responsibilities and selection of staff / members or outside individuals who will be presenting topics or facilitating events
1. Designate planning responsibilities to members of planning committee
 2. Request services from outside presenters or facilitator
 3. Preparation of activities / programs to be implemented by organizational members
 4. Develop a checklist of tasks to be completed and by whom
 5. Develop a step by step plan of action (Example)

Time	Activity	Objective	Responsibility	Equipment
10 - 10:30	Open / Icebreaker	Attitudes	John Smith	None
10:30 - 11	Goal Setting	Knowledge	Jennifer Jones	Handouts
11 - 12	Lunch	Attitudes	Betty Brown	Food

- F. Promotion of Retreat - Essential to publicize the retreat and inform participants on agenda, goals of retreat, and communicate importance of retreat

V. Execution of Retreat Plans

A. Setting up Process

1. Confirm responsibilities with planning committee to make sure all tasks are completed
2. Allow a sufficient amount of time to arrive ahead of beginning time to set up and organize material, equipment, refreshments, etc.
3. Provide plan of action for all retreat organizers and presenters to refer to during the program

VI. Evaluation

A. Evaluation of the retreat should provide feedback on:

1. The planning process (by Planning Committee - done throughout retreat planning)
2. Each activity component of retreat (by Participants)
3. If the goals of retreat were met (by participants and planning committee)
4. Usefulness and applicability of activities to the organization (by participants and planning committee)

B. The phases of the evaluation process should involve the following steps:

1. Organizational - made at the initial step of the planning process (assessment)
2. In-Process - Throughout organization of planning responsibilities and implementation of retreat (done through verbal and survey methods)
3. Program Feedback - Immediately after retreat process (usually by survey method)
4. Follow-Up - Done three to six months later to evaluate progress which has been made since the retreat

C. The different phases of the evaluation process can be compared to evaluate and assess if the goals of the retreat were met.

VII. Follow-Up

- A. Thank you's for planning committee and outside presenters / facilitator
- B. Pay bills

- C. Summarize evaluation results
- D. Organize evaluation report to share with participants
- E. Analysis of issues and ideas developed at retreat
 1. How are ideas being implemented
 2. If goals of organization are being met
 3. Are skills (cognitive, behavioral, affective) being utilized within the organization
 4. Use information from follow-up in the planning process for next retreat

VIII. Other Factors to be Taken Into Consideration

- A. Allow sufficient time in the planning process
- B. Establish Clear Retreat Goals - the more specific the goals and objectives, the more explicit the design, with a better chance of meeting the needs of the group
- C. Maintain Variety - vary the time, amount of risk, presentation, presenters, settings, and the type of interaction during the retreat
- D. Be Creative - this will create interest and facilitate further involvement and interaction of participants
- E. Involve the Group - Important to involve the group in activities and programs. The more active the participants, the greater the interest and learning will be.
- F. Allow for Breaks
- G. Participants will learn best when they can experience and practice.
- H. Learning can and should be fun
- I. Individuals will take greater risks in group situations if the group is supportive
- J. People seldom learn the first time - new ideas are learned while building on the old (sequencing and reinforcement)
- K. Incorporate socializing into overall program
- L. Integrate interaction and recognition into retreat (provide certificates, awards for most presentation, etc.)
- M. For more suggestions or ideas, seek the advice of professionals, mentors, and / or advisors

EVALUATION AND ASSESSMENT

Outgoing Executive Council Evaluation

1. Have we developed younger members who will prove to be exceptional and involved?
2. Will the membership be innovative and creative after we have left?
3. What programs or governing practices proved to be successful for us?
4. What was our greatest achievement as an executive council?
5. What was our greatest challenge as an executive council?
6. Three goals we would have liked to accomplish:
7. Three goals we would like our successors to achieve / build on:

GOAL SETTING GUIDE

GOAL SETTING

Considerations:

Are my goals consistent with my understanding of the purpose of the group?

Will the members of my organization agree with my goals? Check with them.

Am I being realistic? Can I accomplish my goals during my tenure as organization leader?

Goals I want to Accomplish During my Tenure:

1. Projects-

B.

C.

2. Process or manner in which we go about projects (i.e., involving people in decisions, having more members participate in meetings, having more interesting meetings, etc.)

B.

C.

Where Can I Begin?

Which goal seems most important to me?

Do I have the skills necessary to accomplish my goal? Who else in my organization can help me? Are there outside resource people who might help?

Is there anything I can do before tomorrow to help me reach my goal?

What can I accomplish next week?

What specifically can I do within one month to reach all my goals?

WILL I DO IT?

Incoming Officer's Keys to the Future

Before you begin goal setting with the members of your organization, you may benefit personally by developing your own goals. The goals may vary in terms of being long or short in range. Some things you may want to think about for yourself might be: the tone you would like to create in your organization, programming ideas, personal growth, the people you will be working with, budgeting, leadership training, etc.

Begin your own goal setting now by brainstorming for possibilities of what you would like to be about during the upcoming year.

Now list things you can do right away:

Things I want to do starting right now!!! (Be specific - how, when, where...)

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.

Things I want to get started on soon: (when?)

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.

How do I get started? Is there anything I can do before tomorrow? What specifically?

What can I realistically have accomplished one-week from today? One-month?

WORKING WITH YOUR ADVISOR

The Role of the Advisor

As Viewed by the Advisor:

- Resource Person
- Friend / Counselor
- Pick up the pieces when necessary
- Assist in planning
- Play devil's advocate
- Help set goals
- Help maintain direction and provide continuity
- Stimulate creativity and motivation
- Serve as a sounding board for students
- Facilitator for group process
- Be accessible

As Viewed by Student Leaders:

- Resource Person
- Positive reinforcement and support
- Constructive criticism
- Serve as liaison between organization and university
- Deal with legal and contractual matters
- Attend committee meetings
- Advise on specific University procedures
- Be available
- Discuss ideas, but don't dictate
- Support events by attending
- Play devil's advocate when needed
- Brainstorming
- Realize leaders are volunteers

Advisee / Advisor Relationships

1. The responsibility for building the relationship must be shared between advisor and student.
 - View this relationship as a partnership
2. The relationship must be based upon open, direct communication
 - Share needs, responsibilities, and expectations with each other.
 - Be prepared to negotiate.
3. Both must recognize the other's various roles and responsibilities in / outside of their activities position.
 - Know each other's commitments and let each other know their impact.
4. Both advisor / student are human beings who make mistakes, follow their own value systems, and work in individual, professional, person styles.
 - Accept, discuss, and learn from mistakes - then move on.
5. Both advisor / student are continually growing, changing, and learning; each within their own unique stages of development. Challenge and support each other.

The Role of Your Organization's Faculty Advisor

What is your advisor supposed to be doing? Your advisor can be a valuable resource, if you know what to expect and how to communicate with him or her. Below is a list of roles that your advisor may take in working with your organization.

1. Problem Solving Agent: Your advisor may be the impartial third party that helps you work through problems and conflict.
2. Counselor: You may find that your advisor is the type of person you can go to with your personal concerns.
3. Information Resource Person: Hopefully, your advisor has been around long enough to know some of the ins and outs of getting things done at ODU. Use their experience and expertise!
4. Idea Resource Person: Use your advisor to help discover new ideas when your creative juices dry up.
5. Sounding Board: If you want to try out a new idea on an impartial party before proposing it to the entire group, try it out on your advisor.
6. Administration Liaison: Rely on your advisor for advice on who in the administration can help you with your projects.
7. Organization's Representative: Hopefully, your advisor will represent your concerns to the administrative "powers that be."
8. Interpreter of University Policies and Procedures: Rely on your advisor's expertise.
9. Analyzer of the Group Process: Use your advisor as an observer if things in your organization seem to be stuck.
10. Role Model: A positive one, of course!
11. Attendee / Participant at Events: Be sure to keep your advisor informed so that he or she can at least put in an appearance to show support.
12. Continuity Provider: Since the advisor is there from year to year as the student leaders change, he or she can provide a sense of the group's history.
13. Educator Regarding Organizational Philosophy: Your advisor can help you plan the training that your group needs to successfully accomplish its mission.
14. Educator / Trainer of Student Members: Your advisor can help you plan the training that your group needs to successfully accomplish its mission.
15. Maintainer of Records: Make sure that you give your advisor copies of all important documents so that they can be kept on file.
16. Conflict Resolution Assistant: Use your advisor as an impartial mediator.
17. Financial Supervisor: Use your advisor's experience with University procedures to help you keep on top of your organization's finances.
18. Meeting Attender: Be sure to inform your advisor of all meetings so that he or she can attend.
19. Assistant in Evaluating the Organization: Use your advisor as a resource to determine what you should be evaluating and when.
20. Empowerer of Students: Your advisor should be a valuable resource who helps your organization reach good decisions.

MOTIVATION

Keeping Your Officers and Organization Members Motivated Throughout the Year

Ten Commandments for Student Leaders

1. Look upon all of it as a learning experience.
2. Mistakes are inevitable. You have to learn to live with them, and so do others.
3. Don't get caught up with global issues, such as remaking the whole University and outgunning the Trustees. Politics is the art of the possible; so pick out some realistic goals and really go for them.
4. Try to strike up a friendship with the administration. They aren't really bad guys and you might have something to learn from them. Also, they are not automatic adversaries. Believe it or not, they like you and want to be helpful as you mature into real leaders.
5. The common good is terribly important. It means the common good for students, faculty, and for the whole University community. You are part of it, so work for it.
6. Be honest, especially with yourselves. Integrity is probably the best quality of a leader.
7. Be open minded. No other attitude makes learning possible. As Winston Churchill said, "All complicated questions have simple answers. However, they are all wrong."
8. Be fair, even with grown ups. Fairness will win them more than anything else.
9. Don't be cynical. A cynic accomplishes nothing. All of us have to be shocked by the injustices we face in life. Cynicism will never conquer them and attain justice.
10. This will probably sound silly, but my bottom line is laughter and love. It is important to be able to laugh at ourselves which means not to take ourselves too seriously, whether we are President or freshman. Somehow laughter gets us through the most difficult of solutions, but love is important, too, because in a very real sense, we can't work together unless we respect and love each other, young and old.

How to Make an Impact as a Student Leader

20. Be a role model.
21. Confront unacceptable behavior.
22. Utilize training experiences.
23. Find the “teachable moment.”
24. Be supportive of others.
25. Actions should reflect words - be consistent.
26. Develop expectations.
27. Present programs that are reflective of your values and organizational values.
28. Be consistent in your organizational promotions / advertisement.
29. Structure experiences.
30. Lead discussion sessions on values and ethics.
31. Develop an organizational and/or personal code of ethics.
32. Make a difference in all that you do!

A Wish for Leaders

I sincerely wish you will have the experience of thinking up a new idea, planning it, organizing it and following it through to completion, and then have it be magnificently successful. I also hope you'll go through the same process and have something "bomb-out."

I wish you could know how it feels "to run" with all your heart and lose... horribly!

I wish that you could achieve some great good for mankind, and have nobody know about it except for you.

I wish you would find something so worthwhile that you deem it worthy of investing your life within it.

I hope you become frustrated and challenged enough to begin to push back the very barriers of your own personal limitations.

I hope that you make a stupid mistake and get caught redhanded and are big enough to say those magic words, "I was wrong."

I hope you give so much of yourself that some days you wonder if it's worth all the effort.

I wish for you a magnificent obsession that will give you reason for living and purpose and direction in your life.

I wish for you the worst kind of criticism for everything you do, because that makes you fight to achieve beyond what you normally would.

I wish for you the experience of leadership.

- Earl Reum

Human Gadgets

We all have a place in the world it is said
And some are the leaders and some are the lead.
We all are parts of a great big machine
Where wheels, great and small, work with pieces unseen.

Consider your watch... which part would you choose
As the most necessary... the springs or the screws?
The nuts or the bearings, the large cog, or small...
Which one makes it go? Which part most of all?

Take your car... could you do without wheels, without tires...
The batteries, magneto, the spark plugs, the wires?
If you'd take off the steering wheel, take off the clutch
Or remove all the breaks... would it then be worth much?

No, the greatest fly-wheel could not spin without grease
And it's held in place by one small simple piece,
So don't be dismayed when you seem in a rut,
You're important.. Though you may only be a nut!

- Richard Maxwell

From "Life's Little Instruction Book"

H. Jackson Brown, Jr.

- Be the first to say "hello".
- Buy great books even if you never read them.
- Treat everyone you meet like you want to be treated.
- Never give up on anybody. Miracles happen every day.
- Vote.
- Stop blaming others. Take responsibility for every area of your life.
- Admit your mistakes.
- Remember that all news is biased.
- Be brave. Even if you're not, pretend to be. No one can tell the difference.
- In business and in family relationships, remember that the most important thing is trust.
- Think big thoughts, but relish small pleasures.
- Learn to listen. Opportunity sometimes knocks very softly.
- Never deprive someone of hope; it might be all they have.
- Resist telling people how something should be done. Instead, tell them what needs to be done. They will often surprise you with creative solutions.
- Do battle against prejudice and discrimination wherever you find it.
- Let people know what you stand for - and what you won't stand for.
- Become the most positive and enthusiastic person you know.
- Commit yourself to constant self-improvement.
- Don't major in minor things.
- Never cut what can be untied.

It's Not Easy...

To apologize,
To begin over,
To be unselfish,
To take advice,
To admit error,
To face a sneer,
To be charitable,
To keep trying,
To be considerate,
To avoid mistakes,

To endure success,
To profit by mistakes,
To forgive and forget,
To think and then act,
To keep out of a rut,
To make the best of little,
To subdue an unruly temper,
To shoulder a deserved blame,
To recognize the silver lining-

BUT IT ALWAYS PAYS.

Having no trust is at the top of the list. The other four are: no need, no money, no hurry, and no desire.

What is the Greatest?

Greatest Handicap.....Fear
Greatest Day.....Today
Greatest Mistake.....Giving Up
Greatest Stumbling Block.....Ego
Easiest Thing to Do.....Find Fault
Greatest comfort.....Work Well Done
Greatest Need.....Common Sense
Greatest Gift.....Forgiveness

Use your good judgment in all situations.

There will be no additional rules.

Don't find a fault. Find a remedy.

It means the same thing backward as forward:

Do What You Promised You Would Do.

Here's why: A recent survey revealed that 90 percent of Americans do not associate the word "trust" with the word "business". What an indictment of the selling profession. But what an opportunity for you and your business. There are really five basic reasons people will not buy from you.

Rules and Thoughts to Live By

1. It ain't as bad as you think. It will be better in the morning
2. Get mad, then get over it.
3. Avoid having your ego so close to your position that when your position fails, your ego goes with it.
4. It can be done!
5. Be careful what you choose. You may get it.
6. Don't let adverse facts stand in the way of a good decision.
7. Check small things.
8. Share credit.
9. You can't make someone else's choices. You shouldn't let someone else make yours.
10. Remain calm. Be kind.

11. Have a vision. Be demanding.
12. Don't take counsel of your fears or naysayers.
13. Perpetual optimism is a force multiplier.
